10 Historical Fiction Books / Vote in the Q4 Contest!

Leave a Comment / Read Fiction, Write Fiction / By Purple Shelf Club

Welcome to the 2020 Q4 contest! This month's contenders are in and it is time to vote. If you don't know, this contest occurs every quarter with the theme changing every quarter (learn more about the quarterly contest). This quarter is the historical fiction/nonfiction genre. Historical fiction happens to be my favorite genre so I can't wait to see which book wins! Authors submitted their books, I randomly selected the contenders, and now you get to vote!

If you are among the first 25 voters who voted for the winning book, you will get the winning book for free coming straight from the author. Time is of the essence. Voting will be open until December 31st at midnight EST.

Alright, you know the details. Let's get on to the 10 historical fiction and nonfiction books.

Table Of Contents

- 1. Saturday and The Witch Woman
- 2. Countess Jacqueline
- 3. The Tea Room
- 4. The Mathews Family: Mathews Family Saga Book 1

7. The Lonely Vampire

In 1578, Romanians and Hungarians everywhere united to rid their Transylvania home of its vampire infestation. Ileana Vladislava transformed herself into a bat to escape, safely eluding Claymor Elgany, a vengeful vampire hunter and werewolf.

Hundreds of years later, Ileana is a lonely vampire residing within the walls of Wightwick Hall castle in Newcastle upon Tyne. The forever thirty-one-year-old vampire has managed to keep her identity a secret ... that is until a nosy Lorraine Krag moves into her Jesmond Dene neighborhood and starts prying into her life.

As fate would have it, Ileana encounters the young, beautiful, and lonely Myrna Ivester. She transforms Myrna into a vampire, changing both their destinies, which will lead to the reappearance of Claymor - who stands in their way.
