

Book of the day: 17th November 2020

The Lonely Vampire

A folklore fairy tale style novel about a vampire, Ileana Vladislava, who flees the city of Gheorgheni, Romania and reestablishes herself in Newcastle Upon Tyne a city in Northumberland, England.

Hundreds of years later, the lonely Ileana encounters the young and beautiful Myrna Ivester at a library. Ileana decides to take a risk and transform Myrna into a vampire. Not without consequences, the novel takes a dark turn when a vampire hunter in the form of an angry werewolf from a long time ago, descends on the English countryside to wipe out the last vampires.

⋒ Home

Q Explore

Notifications

✓ Grok

Communities

X Premium

A Profile

More

Post

Today's #bookoftheday is Ann Greyson's The Lonely Vampire. "With the impending threat against the vampires, the war between good and evil finds a new battlefield in Newcastle upon Tyne."#horror #horror

11:59 PM · Nov 16, 2020

Q 1 2

 \bigcirc 6

